NO OVERTURES MADE TO WOOD

Proctor Denies Knowledge of Any Oil Deal Offer.

APPEARS BEFORE COMMITTEE

Campaign Manager For General Wood Testifies He Had Heard the Decision to Nominate Harding Was Made at a Conference—Penrose Strove to Eliminate Harding's Rivals, Another Witness Says.

Washington, April 19.—Before the senate oil committee, Colonel William Cooper Proctor of Cincinnati, soap manufacturer, denied that any oil deal offer had been made to General Leonard Wood at the 1920 Republican national convention.

According to the testimony of other witnesses, Wood turned down an offer by the late Jake Hamon of votes and money in return for promise of the secretaryship of the interior if Wood was elected. "I don't know anything about any such story," Proctor, who was campaign manager for Wood, declared.

Proctor said he had seen Harry F. Sinclair in New York in April before the convention and that Sinclair was "nominally favorable" to the Wood candidacy. Proctor said that Sinclair did not contribute to the Wood campaign to his knowledge.

The witness said he had heard the decision to nominate Warren G. Harding was made at a conference the night before Mr. Harding was chosen as Republican presidential candidate. He said he understood Will Hays, Harry Daugherty and Colonel George Harvey were at that conference.

L. W. Dixon, Western Union telegraph operator of Chicago, testified he "worked" a private wire from Senator Penrose's headquarters at the Chicago convention to the Penrose house in Philadelphia. Most of the messages sent over the wire were in cipher, Dixon said. He added that "Penrose was trying to eliminate General Wood, Senator Johnson and Governor Lowden."

John B. Alcorn, telegrapher of Terre Haute, Ind., said he went to Penrose headquarters the night before Harding was nominated. He said he was sent there to listen to the Penrose private wire. "A city editor of a newspaper told me Penrose would name the Republican nominee that night and that Mr. Harding would be the nominee," Alcorn said.

The committee heard from T. A. Harmon, Indianapolis tax expert, a roundabout story of alleged overtures said to have been made to General Wood by Penrose. According to the account, Penrose telephoned the Wood headquarters the night before Harding was nominated and asked to know if Wood, if elected, would give "us" three cabinet members. Wood refused to make any promises.

Harmon said he obtained the account from James L. Nimrod of Mooseheart, Ill., who was a confidential worker in Wood's headquarters and who claimed to have taken the message from Penrose at Wood's request.

William B. Nichols described how he assisted Hamon in the first campaign to defeat Jim McGraw, as Republican national committeeman and then to carry the state for the Republican ticket. He testified Hamon said he could have the post of secretary of the interior in the cabinet, but did not want it.

PRISONER FREED

Virginia Judge Says Conspiracy Existed in Ohio Case.

Lynchburg, Va., April 19.—Holding that a conspiracy existed between Otto C. Kafits, detective from Columbus; George T. Featherstone, chief of police of Chapel Hill, N. C., and other officials of that town to spirit Carl Weigand out of Chapel Hill to be taken to Columbus to answer a charge there, Judge Frank P. Christian, here, discharged Weigand from custody.

Judge Christian held that the warrant of the governor of North Carolina, which was turned over to Kafits, gave Weigand opportunity to swear out a writ of habeas corpus of removal from that state, but Kafits in conspiracy with Chapel Hill police officials spirited Weigand away to prevent him from getting a hearing as to the right of the Ohio detective to extradite him.

S. P. Johnson and Clarence Nunley were killed when a gasoline tank exploded in the machine shop of the Kanawha and Hocking Coal and Coke company at Canbondale, W. Va.

OHIO LAGGING

Figures Show Her Far Behind in Quota For Harding Memorial.

Washington, April 18.—It was revealed at the Harding memorial headquarters here that Ohio is still $128,847.39 short of the $300,000 quota set for the state in the Harding memorial movement. Up to date the Buckeye state had reported $172,151.61, of which $124,762.61 is in cash already received and $47,389 in pledges representing money in the bank awaiting the memorial association's call. There has been received from the nation at large in cash and pledges the sum of $887,093, but officials of the Harding Memorial association say $1,390,000 is "in sight." The national quota is $2,000,000, a reduction of $1,000,000 having been made from the original goal. Unless there is a spurt in Ohio the late President Harding's own state promises to be one of the last to raise its allotment.

Tourists Detained.

Los Angeles, April 19.—Five hundred automobile tourists have been prevented at Kolb, Cal., from crossing the Colorado river, into Arizona in accordance with that state's embargo on vehicular traffic from California, to prevent the spread of hoof and mouth disease. Tales of hardship among the stranded motorists continued to emphasize the gravity of the situation. Several hundred tourists are also held up at Needles.

SCAIFE AGAIN ON THE STAND

Says Seized Liquor Was Given to High Officials.

STOLEN FROM A WAREHOUSE

Whole Affair Submitted to Department of Justice, Witness Says, but No Prosecutions Ever Followed, Scaife Sharply Rebuked For Dragging In the Name of Speaker Gillette of the House.

Washington, April 19.—Testifying before the senate committee investigating the record of former Attorney General Daugherty, Captain H. L. Scaife, former department of justice agent, charged that Speaker Gillette of the house of representatives got a trunkful of liquor seized by the department of justice in 1920.

The charge brought a sharp rebuke from Senator Wheeler when the witness said his testimony was based on "reports" and an alleged newspaper statement by Gillette acknowledging having received the liquor for a constituent.

"Who gave you the information?" asked Wheeler. "Gaston B. Means, for one."

"It is not fair to Speaker Gillette to inject second and third knowledge into this testimony," said Wheeler. "I think it should be stricken from the record." "I can name witnesses who can prove it," said Scaife.

"We don't want 100 per cent gossip," continued Wheeler. "You'll find it 100 per cent true," insisted Scaife. Scaife charged that the liquor obtained by Speaker Gillette was a part of liquor valued between $50,000 and $100,000 seized by the department of justice before the Volstead act went into effect. This liquor, he said, was distributed among officials of the department and private citizens. Scaife said the case was presented to a grand jury in October in 1922, but no indictments were returned because of insufficient evidence.

Cecil H. Kearns, who was convicted in 1922 of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law, charged before the committee that Federal Judge Killits of Ohio was responsible for the revoking of his parole. Judge Killits, who sentenced Kearns, made an adverse report, urging that he be returned to Atlanta, the witness said. He was told by James A. Finch, pardon clerk of the department of justice.

Kearns charged that Judge Killits adjourned his court on the day that he was sentenced in another liquor conspiracy case at Dayton, and called Judge Sater on long distance telephone, "to see that my sentence did not run concurrently." Kearns said that a month after his parole was granted, Judge Killits wrote to his wife saying that he was opposed to Kearns' release.

THAW MAY LOSE CASE

Felt He Made a Mistake in Not Telling
His Own Story to Jury.

Philadelphia, April 19.—It is believed here that the entire aspect of Harry K. Thaw's sanity trial has been changed by collapse of the original plan to have Thaw testify in his own behalf. It is said that Thaw had schooled himself for months for the test to which he asked his lawyers to submit him. He was ready to match wits with Arthur Dickson and William Gray, attorneys for parties opposing his release from Kirkbride's asylum, but Gray refused to question him. The part that Evelyn Nesbit, Thaw's former wife, can play becomes of increasing importance. On behalf of her son, Russell, for whom she claims heritage of the Thaw millions, she is opposing Harry's release. Gray may play Evelyn as his big card.

Ford Purchases Land.

London, O., April 19.—Purchase by Henry Ford of 775 acres of land near South Charleston, Madison county, from Thomas E. Mattison and Mrs. Ida Murray was reported here for approximately $150,000. DOINGS IN OHIO

Court Victims Quizzed.

Cleveland, April 19.—County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton questioned scores of persons as to the circumstances of their arrest and conviction by a certain justice of the peace here. The books and records of the justices' courts are in Stanton's office. The facts recorded in them were checked with the stories told by the dry raiders' victims. Stanton intimated if any irregularities were discovered "another justice might walk the plank."

Steubenville, O., April 19.—As a sequel to the closing of the Douglas brokerage house here, court proceedings have been brought against Mrs. W. D. Lloyd of Pittsburgh, Pa., a former confidential secretary of A. C. Douglas. Mrs. Lloyd, formerly Miss Estelle Thornburgh, faces charges of embezzlement as a result of the recent crash of the Douglas office when losses of between $50,000 and $100,000 are reported to have been uncovered.

Cleveland, April 19.—Nemo, Brookside zoo elephant, was shot to death after he had gone on a rampage, broken the leg chain which shackled his left hind foot, ripped out several bars and wrecked the west wall of his cage. Dr. R. A. Dunn of the humane society condemned him to death after efforts to save the huge beast had been unsuccessful.

Mysterious Shooting.

Cleveland, April 19.—Joseph Rockowicz, 55, a cobbler, is in the hospital with a bullet wound in his lung. He was found unconscious by neighbors in his shop when they investigated the shooting. Police are holding two men in connection with the shooting. Both deny knowledge of the crime.

IMMIGRATION BILL PUT THROUGH

Carries the Asiatic Exclusion
Provision.

HOW GOES TO CONFERENCE

Slight Differences to Be Adjusted Before the Measure Is Sent to the White House—Six Senators Go on Record Against the Bill—Contempt Proceedings Expected to Be Instituted Against Mal Daugherty.

Washington, April 19.—By a vote of 62 to 6 the senate passed the immigration bill. It now goes to conference.

As passed the measure carries the Japanese exclusion provision. It will soon be sent to the president, for there are only slight differences to be ironed out, the bill carrying practically the same provisions approved by the lower house. The senate bill fixes a maximum admission of 150,000 to this country each year, against an estimated total of 162,000 in the house measure.

Senators voting against the bill were: Democrats, Walsh of Massachusetts, Bayard of Delaware and Gerry of Rhode Island; Republicans, Cole of Rhode Island and Weller of Maryland.

Immigrant quotas will be based on 2 per cent of the total population of the United States as the census of 1890 and Asiatics excluded. But of these features are embodied in the house bill and inasmuch as Republican congressional leaders believe President Coolidge will not veto the bill, it will become a law in its present state.

Contempt proceedings against Mal Daugherty probably will be started in the senate. A draft of the resolution citing the brother of the former attorney general for defying the authority of the senate investigating committee was considered in executive session. Prompt action is expected to follow its approval by the committee. Adoption of the contempt resolution would subject Daugherty to imprisonment until he consents to testify.

COLLECTED $5,000 AND DROVE AWAY

Pastor's Flock Awaits His Return and End of World.

Dallas, Tex., April 19.—Rev. John Q. Adams' flock of fervent worshippers wait faithfully for the joint return of their pastor and the end of the world. The "Holy Roller" parson left town in an automobile after collecting about $5,000 from his devoted congregation, it is charged.

Mrs. H. P. Conkle, one of the leaders of the Pentecostal church, said she was confident Adams would return on schedule. Mrs. Conkle, a widow with six children, sold all her possessions in anticipation of the end of the world and the return of Christ. Welfare workers said the majority of the "Holy Rollers" had sold out their possessions and were in needy circumstances. The "rolling parson," they said, "flavored" away with at least $5,000.

Mrs. Harriman Granted Divorce.

White Plains, N. Y., April 19.—A certificate has been issued to Oliver Oarley Harriman, son of Oliver Harriman, banker, showing that a final decree of divorce had been entered in favor of his wife. The decree gives Mrs. Harriman the custody of the two minor sons and alimony of $500 a month.

A plan was mapped out for development and expansion of the activities of the state departments and the farm organizations on agricultural lines. Represented at the meeting were the Farm Bureau federation, State grange, College of Agriculture, state department of agriculture, agricultural division of the state department of education and the farm press. Dean Alfred Vivian of the College of Agriculture of Ohio State university and Director of Agriculture Charles V. Truax acted as chairmen of the meetings. Committees were appointed to draft plans for procedure.

Former Bank Officials, Arrested.

Indianapolis, April 19.—Five ex-officers and directors of the defunct Crothersville State bank were arrested on county and grand jury indictments charging embezzlement and conspiracy. The men arrested are Frank B. Butler, ex-president of the bank; Gordon Butler, ex-cashier; William P. Rider, Howard R. Rider and Henry H. Kovernor, directors. The bank was closed Sept. 12, 1923, on orders from the state bank commissioner, who estimated a shortage at the institution of $100,000.

DIES IN CHAIR

Last of Southwest's Notorious Outlaws Executed For Murder.

Little Rock, Ark., April 19.—Joseph Sullivan, alias "Diamond Joe," was electrocuted in the state prison here for the slaying of a local detective last year. "Diamond Joe" was the last of the southwest's notorious bandits. He went to his death with an air of gay carelessness. All of Sullivan's associates had met death while "shooting it out" with authorities. They included Tim Slaughter, Eddie Adams, Ed Lockhart and Al Spencer. Adams was credited with starting Sullivan on his career as an outlaw and bandit and teaching him the tricks of the trade.

Body of a man about 30, riddled with five bullets, found in the East river at New York, was identified as that of Isadore Kantowitz, who fled from Detroit after several attempts had been made on his life by gangsters who sought to prevent him from testifying in a murder trial.

Inventor of Locomotive

It is not true that George Stephenson invented the locomotive steam engine. That honor belongs to George Trevithick, a Cornish engineer, whose steam locomotive drew a train on rails from Merthyr Tydfil to what is now called Abercynon, in Glamorganshire, in February, 1804. The Merthyr achievement was the result of a bet. A local ironmaster, William Crashay, having heard of Trevithick's experiments in Cornwall, made a bet that he would get a steam engine to draw a load of 20 tons on the tramway from Merthyr to Abercynon. He was laughed at, but he sent for Trevithick, who duly fulfilled the conditions of the bet.

The engine had a brick smokestack. It had to pass through a tunnel, the roof of which knocked off the stack. Trevithick had to halt the train and rebuild his stack. Trevithick had previously—on Christmas eve, 1801—driven a locomotive by road with a load of passengers. He repeated the performance in London in 1803, when a steam vehicle made by him was run in the streets from Leather Lane along Oxford street to Paddington, the return journey being made by Islington. —London Answers.

Betrothed as Babies

For centuries past it has been the custom in China for the parents of a baby girl to betroth her, in infancy, to the youthful son of a friendly couple, and there have been numerous cases in which the girl has not seen her husband-to-be until she arrived at the home of his parents for the marriage ceremony. The match was a question solely for the respective parents and the young couple were not consulted. Western civilization, however, is encroaching on China, and the act that the old order is changing is shown by four advertisements inserted in the vernacular Press of Peking recently, by which young women have given notice to the world that they decline to recognize the betrothals arranged for them in their infancies, and that they reserve for themselves the right to select their life partners.

When a Man's Sick

It is when we are sick that we make the hardest call on our philosophy of life. It is the most difficult of mental feats to be resigned to physical suffering and incapacity. There have been cheerful sick men in history, like Alexander Pope, it is true, but they were and are few and far between. Julius Caesar, for instance, proved to be a very querulous man when he was sick.

U. S. EXPERIMENTS AID TEXAS CATTLE RAISERS

Tests Made by Bureau of Animal Industry Also Help Human Suffering.

Experiments by the bureau of animal industry at Washington have resulted in the prevention of suffering by millions of animals and human beings, according to Dr. John R. Mohler, chief of the bureau, who maintains that the comfort of animals has been increased by experiments.

"Because in certain experimental work it is necessary to use live animals the United States Department of Agriculture has on various occasions been accused of practicing unnecessary cruelty. Such accusations are without reasonable foundation," says Doctor Mohler.

"In carrying on experimental work, particularly that which has for its object the control of disease, it is necessary to use a few animals, but in most cases the suffering of the subjects is negligible if there is any at all. If the objectors had had their way the suffering among animals and human beings from many causes would now be infinitely greater than it is. A few examples should make this clear to those who wish to see.

"Previous to 1906 the cattle of our Southern states, an area comprising about 750,000 square miles, were affected with Texas fever, a disease which annually killed large numbers and which so sickened the others that they became poor and were relatively unprofitable as producers of meat or milk. Scientists of the department by the use of a few cattle discovered that the disease was carried from animal to animal by the blood-sucking cattle tick, and the natural conclusion was that the eradication of the tick would mean the disappearance of Texas fever. This proved to be the case.

"The department almost immediately undertook the stupendous task of cleaning out the tick from the herds of the South, and already nearly three-fourths of the vast territory has been cleared of it by dipping the cattle at certain intervals in an arsenical solution and keeping them off infested pastures until the ticks there have died. As a result millions of cattle have been permitted to live in health and comfort and to provide wholesome food."

U. S. Ships Planes for World-Encircling Flight

Fifteen complete Liberty airplane engines are in shipment to Alaska and Far Eastern points as emergency equipment for the four United States army airplanes to leave Santa Monica, Cal., soon for a world-encircling flight, according to officials at Clover field there. Three will be shipped to points in Alaska—one to Sitka, one to Dutch Harbor and the third to Chicago, a small fishing settlement on Attu Island.

The other twelve engines are on their way to Amoy, Yokohama and Nagasaki, Japan; Shanghai, China; Saigon, French Indo-China, and Calcutta, India.

Many Beauty Experts Seek Jobs on Liner

Since the Leviathan went into dry dock at South Boston more than 300 manicurists, wrinkle experts, hair dressers, pedicurists and other types of exterior decorators have applied for employment aboard the ship.

James E. Prentiss, general manager of the United States Lines, believes that the applications are the result of rumors that only millionaires travel by the Leviathan. He says the vessel carries only four official manicurists, three hair dressers and has no billers for wrinkle trimmers or foot specialists.

Poland Retrenching

Price for Wheat Fixed by Demand

Farmers Planning on Growing Durum Variety Should Consider Conditions.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Farmers who are planning on growing durum wheat this year should consider carefully the market conditions. Since the early days of durum wheat production there usually has been an active foreign demand. The development of a domestic market did not keep pace with production. In recent years, however, large mills have been constructed for grinding durum wheat exclusively, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. This industry now uses about half the average annual production. With the decrease in the foreign demand the price for this class of wheat has become more and more dependent upon the domestic market. Because of the overproduction for this market the price of durum wheat has been considerably below that of equal grades of hard red spring wheat, in recent years.

Why Durum is Favored.
Because of the greater resistance of durum wheats to rust and drought, which occur frequently in the northern spring wheat region, durum wheat usually yields and weighs more and grades higher in its class than hard red spring wheat grown under the same conditions. The increasing acreages of durum wheat up to 1922 were largely the result of the superior yields and the higher grades which usually have been obtained. The recent low prices of durum wheat caused a decrease in its acreage in 1923. A further reduction in the acreage of this class of wheat probably is necessary if growers are to receive a profitable return for their 1924 crop.

As the domestic demand is increasing and the foreign demand decreasing, more careful attention should be given to the requirements of the domestic market. Firms engaged in the durum trade find it difficult to obtain pure durum wheat. According to the official inspections supervised by the federal grain supervisors for the three crop years ending August 31, 1919, 1920, and 1921, about 48 per cent of the durum wheat inspected contains over 10 per cent of wheat of other classes and is graded as mixed wheat. Only the remaining 52 per cent is graded as durum. Approximately 30 per cent of all mixed wheat marketed has durum wheat predominating in the mixture. No other one class of wheat forms the basis of so much mixed wheat. The principal class of wheat found mixed with durum is hard red spring. Farmers are urged to obtain and maintain seed stocks of pure durum wheat.

When making a change of seed careful consideration also should be given the choice of varieties. The kubanka is the best-adapted variety for all of the varying conditions in the durum wheat sections. It is a high-yielding wheat considerably resistant to rust, of good milling quality and well liked for the manufacture of macaroni. The new nodak variety which recently has been developed in North Dakota as a selection from kubanka, is a distinct pure strain of that variety which is equal or superior to it in yield, rust resistance and macaroni-making qualities. Other durum varieties have been found more productive than kubanka in certain sections. Mindum is the best-yielding durum variety in Minnesota. It is about as resistant to rust as kubanka and makes macaroni of excellent light yellow color. Pelliss is the best yielding variety in the higher and drier sections of Montana and Wyoming where rust does not occur. It also gives a good color in macaroni manufacture.

Discontinue Red Variety.
Other high-yielding varieties of durum wheat, however, produce macaroni of a grayish color, which has been found by domestic manufacturers to be unsalable. Principal among these is pentad (D-5), the red durum variety. It is the most rust-resistant variety of durum wheat grown and is a high-yielding wheat in seasons of severe rust. The grain, however, cannot be used profitably by domestic manufacturers of semolina from which macaroni is made. It is sold principally for export and its price is considerably below that of equal grades of amber durum. The growing of red durum should be discontinued. Two varieties of amber durum which also are rust resistant and high yielding are not desired by the trade because of the grayish color of the macaroni which they make. These are the acme and monad (D-1) varieties. Acme is the highest-yielding durum variety in most of South Dakota, and monad the best-yielding variety in North Dakota. In order to meet the requirements of the domestic market, durum wheat growers should obtain purer and better seed and replace the pentad (D-5), acme and monad (D-1) varieties with other rust-resistant varieties as soon as possible. For this purpose the nodak appears the most promising new variety at this time.

Sudan Grass for Hay

If the hay crop shows prospects of being short this year or if for any reason a late planted crop is wanted which will produce a great deal of forage, sudan grass will just about fill the bill. It can be planted any time from corn-planting time until July 15 and will make two crops in a season and about four tons to the acre.

HERRICK REFRIGERATORS

HERRICK DRY AIR SYSTEM REFRIGERATOR

The Big Difference In Refrigerators

The main object of any refrigerator, of course, is the preservation of foods. The refrigerator that will keep foods in perfect condition longest is naturally the refrigerator you want—provided it doesn't increase your ice bills.

The Herrick answers those requirements with facts—not claims. And it does even more. It actually decreases your ice bills while giving you more effective food preservation.

And why? Simply because the Herrick is far more than an ice box—far more than a cold storage place. It is built on the scientifically demonstrated principle that more than merely cold air is necessary to keep foods in good condition for any great length of time.

Perhaps the biggest essentials to scientifically correct refrigeration are—

- No. 1. Circulation of cold dry air.
- No. 2. Effective Insulation.
- No. 3. Air-tight construction.

That the Herrick has these necessary essentials is a demonstrated fact.

Many proofs of the truth are visible even to the least informed purchaser. Others are hidden within the walls of the refrigerator, but nevertheless there, performing their functions so important to good health and economy.

MOUNTAIN LADS

From Caney Creek Community Center to be in Circleville.

On Wednesday night of next week at the Presbyterian church four mountain lads from the remote sections of Kentucky will tell their messages of how those quaint and uneducated people live and how they enjoy getting out and seeing the big world on the outside which only a few of the mountaineers know exists.

They are not soliciting funds but come merely to acquaint people with the splendid work that is being done by big hearted people who want them to have the joys which the rest of us are so familiar with and yet the people of the mountains know so little of.

These boys of only ten to eight years of age are splendid speakers and sing well and their entire program is a surprise to all who hear them.

Come out and hear them and hear this unique program. Presbyterian church April 23, at 7 o'clock.

MRS. A. E. MOUL

Rafael Sabatini, the author of "Scaramouche," which in its screen form, as produced by Rex Ingram for Metro, opens at the Metropolitan theater Monday is one of the outstanding literary lights of the year. "The modern Dumas" as critics have called him, is a man who succeeded by doing the wrong thing. Sabatini persisted in writing novels with historical backgrounds when the public, disturbed by the war, wanted nothing, according to most publishers, but studies of modern society.

But three years after the war the pendulum swung back to a demand for romance of older days and there were Sabatini's books, written in the shadow of failure where popular success was concerned, waiting to be read. The public read them, and "Scaramouche," the moving tale of the French Revolution, ran into editions that brought its sale into the hundred thousands.

Mr. Sabatini's love for adventure is liberty because enormously successful. Many editions were printed, and Sabatini, after years of only meagre recognition, tasted the fruits of popularity.

Then Rex Ingram saw the possibilities of "Scaramouche" for a great motion picture. He bought the film rights and started work with the same principal actors who had appeared in Metro's "The Prisoner of Zenda"—Alice Terry, Lewis Stone and Ramon Navarro.

The outcome of this move is now known. The film version of "Scaramouche" is perhaps the biggest success of the season, and Sabatini has the added joy of seeing his novel in its celluloid form reach thousands beyond even the wildest of his fluent dreams.

"Scaramouche" was adapted to the screen by Willis Goldbeck by arrangement with Charles L. Wagner. Curt Rehfeld was production manager, the film was edited by Grant Whytock and the photography was by John F. Seitz. Costumes were designed by O'Kane Cornell and Evamay Roth and executed by Van Horn.

FUNERAL SERVICE SINCE 1868 REFINED—RELIABLE REASONABLE Public Ambulance Service Opposite Court House Phone 25. FRED C. CLARK Melvin S. Rinehart, Asst. W.H. ALBAUGH CO.

William Holland and May Goldfrederick Intercepted at Washington.

William Holland, 20, and May Goldfrederick, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Goldfrederick, undertook to elope to Kentucky Thursday morning, but they did not succeed in carrying out their plans. The Washington C. H. Herald says: "William Holland and May Goldfrederick, a youthful couple from Circleville were taken from a Pennsylvania train westbound here by Officer Bell Thursday morning upon instructions from the police department of Circleville.

"The couple was headed for Kentucky to be married, but failed to throw their parents off the trail and their apprehension was ordered by the objecting parents.

"The couple, the girl in tears, part of the time, were detained at the mayor's office until they could be returned to Circleville. Both expressed their disappointment at being stopped enroute to be married and there was an indication of the determination to make another try for Kentucky, if the opportunity presented itself."

DENIES MEANS' STORY

Former Alien Property Custodian Palmer Issues Statement.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 19.—A. Mitchell Palmer, former alien property custodian, denied a statement made in Gaston B. Means' testimony before the senate Daugherty committee. He said: "Means' lurid tale of a plot on the part of Attorney General Daugherty to blackmail me into using my influence with congress on his behalf is a tissue of falsehoods from beginning to end. It is an amazing thing that a committee of the United States senate would allow itself to become the medium of broadcasting to the world the false and ridiculous charges of a witness of the character of Means, designed to blacken the reputation of honest and conscientious public officials."

Home-Made Water Filter.

To make a cheap water filter, take a large garden pot and stop the hole in the bottom by placing a piece of sponge in it. Cover with a few inches of powdered charcoal, fill with water, and let it stand over a pall or tub supported by two or three sticks laid across. The water filtering through the charcoal will be freed from all impurities and will be fit for family use. The charcoal should be changed every three months and the sponge several times a year.

Christian Era.

The Christian era was not adopted as a means of reckoning time until several centuries after Christ's time. An error was made in the reckoning then and it is now agreed that the time assigned for the birth of Christ was at least four years out of the way; that is, according to the accepted reckoning, Jesus was born in the year 4 B. C.

Company Seeks Wage Cut.

New York, April 19.—Employees of the Interborough Rapid Transit company have been asked to accept a 5 per cent reduction in their wages, effective July 1. These same workers were granted a 5 per cent wage increase last June and it is this increase that they have been asked to relinquish. The request has been made necessary, Mr. Hedley explained, because the company's receipts for the eight months ending Feb. 29 were $1,295,089 less than the fixed charges that must be met.
